They will be five and six room structures and will range in cost from $1000 to $1500. In many cases the bungalows will be built on lots which are now used for the storage of lumber and other materials. ### AMUSEMENTS.

"GERMINAL" COMES MONDAY.
There is a real treat in store for the theatergoers of Monday night. The new play "Germinal" will be shown. This is the production which the Pathe brothers claim is their masterpiece. It is in five reels and comes to this country after several months of phenomenal success in Europe.

Stephen Bush, the New York lecturer and moving picture critic, says of it: "At their best the Pathe productions are unimpeachable. When the subject is congenial that company can do wonders in filming. It is at its best in 'Germinal'. The good old word 'masterpiece' has been so foully abused by the press agents that no one who wants to be fair can use it. No question of the appropriateness of the great word arises when applied to 'Germinal'. It is in the true sense of the word a masterpiece."

April 6 and 7, "In Mizoura," will be shown.—Advertisement.

THE BLOU TODAY.
A "Crucel Revenge," a two part Lubin feature, will head the program at the Blou today. This is a picture of distinguished scenes with a story that is romantic and interesting. The quality of the acting and acting is above the average and the picture, accordingly, to the New York critics, is considered a hit from beginning to end. Come and see for yourself.

Sunday, a two part Kalem special will be featured.—Advertisement.

"THE MAXIXE" AT THE GRECIA.
Today is your last chance to learn the latest dance, "The Maxixe," with "Our Mutual Girl." New York society pays A. Baldwin Sloane and Miss Field $25 for the same lesson that you can see at the Grecian today for the usual admission price. Come to the matinee, advertisement.

LONG MISSING WOLF TURNS UP; INVADERS CHICKEN YARD.

A pet wolf, which has been missing for two years, is suspected by J. H. Weltergreen, of 1295 East Fourth street, of being the animal which, last night or two ago invaded his chicken yard, ate the head off of a game cock and attempted to also devour some fine pet game hens. Mr. Weltergreen raised the wolf as a pet, but it disappeared and until the invasion of his hen house, had not been seen since. The owner heard the animal prowling around his premises, but it disappeared before he could investigate.

COPPER LEAGUE TO HAVE NEW PARK

Magnates at Meeting Decide to Acquire Grounds in Cotton Addition; Estimated Price is $23,000.

Although the final plans have not yet been made, the purchase of a ball-ground for the Copper League was assured at a meeting on Saturday of those interested in the league.

The acquisition of a ball park was made necessary by the fact that the baseball privilege for Washington park was awarded Friday to the City League. The new park will be located in the Cotton addition and will be far more accessible than is Washington park. Although definite announcement has not been made, it is understood that the price to be paid for the ground is $23,000 and that a stock company will be formed to operate the park.

A certain amount of the gate receipts of each game will be laid aside for a sinking fund with which to make final payments on the property after the first payment has been made. Besides the proceeds of the gate, it is expected that the cushion and other concessions will be worth about $1000 a year. Another source of income will be derived from renting the park in the fall for football games.

It was said Saturday that plans had so far progressed that a force of teams and carpenters will be put to work Monday to clear the ground and erect a grandstand. The park will be ready within two weeks.

ADDS $750 TO THE MINE SCHOOL FUND

Robert Krakauer Expected to Have the Entire $30,000 Ready by the Time the Option Expires.

A total of $750 was raised Friday afternoon by Robert Krakauer for the school of mines fund. This brings the total raised to date to well over $41,000 and reduces the amount still required to about $7000.

"I am confident that all the money necessary will be raised within the time of the extended option," said Mr. Krakauer Saturday. "We will continue the campaign this afternoon and I think that there is a good chance that all the money will be in early next week. We will have six or seven business men, all of whom have promised to come to call upon me. We are receiving good encouragement and I have every hope that, at the end of two weeks at the latest, I will be able to announce the transfer of funds and that the school of mines is an assured institution."

Women of Fashion who are now assembling their new Wearables for Spring and Summer will be delighted with these lovely collections.

There is a great deal more than the broadly assorted styles to enthuse over—there is the price consideration, something to which every woman gives consideration.

Prices are marked in plain figures, and marked in figures which are very demonstrative of the good of the "Popular" way.

Just now, the collections are so complete that it must be a very, very critical taste which cannot be pleased.

Charmingly radiant with the mingled inspiration of the couturiers of Europe and America.

A widely varied inspiration, with styles in so many charming themes that one need not follow any particular period, but can rather be gown in garments which are becoming and which are in well attuned harmony with the wear.

It is a season which is characterized by marvelous fabrics, and they are delineated in designs which accentuate the beauty of the fabrics.

We have kept these collections quite free of the grotesque and bizarre effects which have nothing about them to appeal to women of good taste and careful discrimination in choosing what they wear.

Three centuries are represented in the various periods with a great many garments sparkling with the picturesqueness of the Far East, the dignity of Elizabethan modes, the quaintness of our own "war times" and the jaunty little boleros of Spain. —(Third Floor)
